

CALL FOR TEEN ART AND POETRY

The Advocacy Center Teen activist group, ACTion, invites local teens to share their creativity in our “QuaranTeen” Art Showcase and Poetry Slam!

Creativity is healing. We hope to encourage all teens to express themselves through art or words. And, because art is also powerful when shared – send us your work!

Art and poetry/spoken word submissions should loosely reflect one or more of the following themes: community, connection and/or resilience.

Entries are due Friday, June 5th – submit pieces at bit.ly/actionartwork and bit.ly/actionpoetry

Small gift certificates to local businesses will be awarded to select submissions. Awards will be recognized under various categories of honor, including “most intersectional,” “most humorous,” and “most creative.”

Virtual Art Showcase and Poetry Slam! event details to be announced soon - follow us @actiontompkinsfor for updates.

Have questions? Email us at action@actompkins.org

ACTion, the Advocacy Center Teens’ group, is dedicated to fighting sexual and relationship violence in and beyond Tompkins County. We collaborate across communities with our peers and others to keep ourselves and our communities informed and safe. Our ultimate goal is to increase local awareness about issues related to abuse, harassment, bullying, and assault.

To find out more about ACTion follow us on Instagram at @actiontompkins (and stay tuned for our new website!)

To learn about Advocacy Center youth services, visit the Advocacy Center's website at www.actompkins.org and follow our social media @AdvocacyTC.

Questions about the art showcase and poetry slam, please email action@actompkins.org